ASSISTIVE TECHNOLOGY AT HOME

MEET OLIVE

Olive, 83, lives alone in a 2-bedroom retirement village unit. She receives support from an aged care package and her daughter visits once a week to take her shopping and to appointments. Olive has arthritis in her hips, knees, back and hands and worries about falling. Her memory is usually pretty good but she benefits from reminders to take her medication. She walks unaided in her home and uses a four-wheel walker when out and about. She uses aids to assist her to manage occasional incontinence. Olive loves to garden and share afternoon tea with her neighbours.

MEET MARK

Mark, 68, lives with his wife in their family home. He has MS which affects his mobility and transfers. He receives help from NDIS for daily personal care, and enjoys an occasional warm bath to relieve muscle cramps. He can manage his own grooming and eating. Most days, he can walk short distances within his home using a four wheel seat walker, and when out and about, he enjoys the portability and independence provided by his Whill C2 Power Wheelchair. On his 'bad' days, his wife assists him with a manual wheelchair, inside and outside of the home. Mark can fatigue easily so paces himself when he is expecting visitors, or if he is going out. He enjoys attending his gym each week and dining with friends.
